

2022, VISITING KIDS

ANOTHER YEAR BITES THE DUST

December 31, 2022

One thing that I have notice while looking back at my blog from the beginning and reading forward, is that this site started o as a “Look what I am doing” (since there was no Twitter back then), into a time capsule.

So I'm going to carry on with posting my adventures with family and my kids...

---

I was able to celebrate Thanksgiving at my grandmas place with family, and then drove south the next day to spend time with the kids.

Eating lunch at a new Greek restaurant in town.

Walked next door where they had holiday events going on.

Bubbles to look like snow.

Checking out Judd's Store.

The old gas pump still at Judd's.

Yes, I bought it.

We were bored in the thrift store.

I'm surprised the sign is still up... something that will be gone one day.

Driving home, near Nephi, Utah.

Come early December, we had the traditional Christmas party on my moms side.

Pano before we set everything up.

Random people drifting on a 4-wheeler nearby

Then towards the end of December, I was able to celebrate Christmas Eve by first going to my grandma's home where we had the traditional spaghetti and Sharich Spaghetti Sauce... MMMmmmmmm. After winning the second round of our holiday games, I left the party to cover the remainder of another managers shift so she could have a Christmas Eve too.

Oh, Stan...

I won? I won!

The next day, I drove south again to visit my kids. We went shopping to spend those gift cards! Due to our location while shopping, we checked out a giant rock that is a petroglyph rock. I also had my first custom soda drink... I wasn't impressed, but I'll try another flavor next time. Then, we spent the next day doing more shopping around town.

Lunchtime at a pizza place.

Petroglyphs on a rock in the Bloomington area.

How bad our reception was on our motel room TV.

Candy from Peru, given to me by J1's who remember me from last year. Sharing with my kids.

It's like a candy cookie cake.

The McD's marquee lit up bright at this moment, make it look like this was a daytime cutout on black background.

Wet asphalt, more light to capture.

Outside the soda shop

On a building in Hurricane, UT.

Winning those tickets!

Hi, buddy!

I returned home to get another holiday gift from my brother. The first words out of my mouth when seeing it for the first time, was the episode title. Lol!

rst words out of my mouth

We still don't know if they are official signatures, but who cares. If you know the missing two signatures, let me know.

And yes, I have watched That '90s Show ... and sadly, every episode of That '80s Show (wiki)
